I would like to see the 5 WPM Morse Code remain a requirement for HF privileges. I'm against lowering amateur standards for testing and or reducing the amount of tests. Morse code remains the most reliable means of communications in low power high noise situations.